ILLEGAL SALE OF LIQUOR CHARGED

Bert Wilson, Living Northeast of Here, Alleged to Have Sold Pint
of Whiskey

DRAW SUSPENDED SENTENCES

Meredith Horrall and Louis Dagler
Plead Guilty to Armcry Thefts—
Other Criminal Matters

Business in the criminal court picked up over the week end, with an arrest being made, two suspended sentences given out and bondsmen
surrendering a prisoner.

The series of events begun Saturday afternoon with the arrest of Bert
Wilson, a farmer living two miles northeast of Rushville, who is charged with unlawfully selling liquor.

Meredith Horrall and Louis Dagler,
each 20 years old, who have been held
in jail for two months on a larceny charge were arraigned this morning
and pleaded guilty, and each received a sentence of from one to 14 years at the reformatory, which was suspended
during their good behavior.

Thomas Fox and Anna Hilligoss, bondsmen for Charley Capp Miller, a farmer of Walker township, held on a charge of illegal manufacture of liquor, appeared before Sheriff Hunt
Saturday night about 9 o'clock and asked to be released from the $2,500
bond.

The defendant was with them, and went to jail when they withdrew from his bond. Miller obtained a change of judge last week, and his case will be tried before Fremont Miller, regular
judge of the Johnson county court, whenever it is convenient for him to come here for the case.

Chester Taylor and Donald Newman, who are held in jail upon default of bonds, on a joint charge of conspiracy to sell liquor, were granted a change of judge and the draw ended in the same judge getting the case, and Judge Miller has set the case for trial May 8.

The state struck off the names of Judge Craig, Greensburg, and Judge Fred Hines, Noblesville, and the defense struck off the names of Judge
James Collins, Indianapolis, and
Judge Charles Lowe of Lawrenceburg
leaving the selection to the Franklin, Ind., judge. He stated that he could not hear the case until May 8.

The arrest of Wilson was brought about Saturday afternoon when the authorities were told about the sale
of a pint of liquor at the farm home,
and a search warrant was obtained,
but nothing found. The man was arrested on the strength of the alleged sale of the liquor. Wilson formerly lived in Rushville in North Sexton street, and a few months ago was fined $100 and costs on a charge of violating the liquor laws.

Horrall and Dagler, who were former members of Company C, Rushville's national guard unit, admitted
their guilt of stealing from the government, and upon their promise not

CLOUD MUST DOVE TIME

Judge Sparks Overrules Motion
New Trial in Court

Cecil Cloud, convicted on the charge of first degree murder by a jury in the circuit court here week
before last, will serve his sentence of life imprisonment at Michigan City,
following the decision in the court
Saturday, when the motion for a new trial was overruled.

Cloud was found guilty by the jury
of killing Luther C. Sharp, meat shop owner, and city councilman, who he was alleged to have attempted to hold
him up, and shot him when he failed to hand over the money. The motion was argued Saturday, and decided against the prisoner by Judge Sparks.

DENIES MOTION TO INSTRUCT JURY

Judge Chamberlin Rules on Move of Defense to Acquit Gov. McCray
on Larceny Charge

NO RULING ON OTHER PHASE

Court Holds That Question is Matter for Jury to Decide and Not
Question of Law

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7.—A motion of attorneys for Governor Mc-Cray to instruct the jury hearing the case against the governor on charges
of larceny and embezzlement, to return a verdict of not guilty, was overruled as to the larceny count by Judge Chamberlin today.

Judge Chamberlin announced he would make his ruling on the embezzlement count at the opening of the afternoon session.

"If the court had concluded under
the evidence up to this time that this was a loan to the governor, your argument would be conclusive as to larceny," Judge Chamberlin said. "But there certainly can be larceny, it seems to me, if the theory of the state is correct as to the manner in which the money was applied."

"The whole point is whether this was a loan to the governor or to his bank," Judge Chamberlin continued.
"This is a matter for the jury to decide. For me to decide would be to invade the province of the jury."

"The rule that a court must decide
a question of law does not apply
where reasonable men can differ."

The loan to which the judge referred was the transactions by which $155,000 of the funds of the state board of agriculture were turned over to McCray.

The state contended the money was intended for deposit in McCray's bank in Kentland and the defense is fighting to establish its assertion that the money was a personal loan to the governor.

Judge Barnard, attorney for Mc-Cray, attacked the indictment and
the testimony on the charges.

"The indictment charges the governor with embezzlement and larceny
of the funds of the state of Indiana,"
he said. "The fact is that Newt Brown, (former secretary-treasurer of the board) loaned the money of the board of agriculture—not that of

CHAMBERS NAMED RECEIVER

Rushville Man, Provides $20,000
Bond in Billings Case

Edward J. Chambers of this city has been appointed receiver for George Billings, following the series
of law suits filed in the circuit court
by alleged creditors. The Rushville
National bank, in one of their complaints on a $5,000 note against Billings, demanded a receiver, and evidence of the question was heard
by the court, and the appointment of Mr. Chambers was made. Bond in the sum of $20,000 was furnished.

Billings, who is a farmer of Union township, has disappeared following the filing of several suits in court last week, according to Sheriff Hunt, who has been unable to serve the papers on him. The property has been attached, as one of the suits filed attachment proceedings.

RUSHVILLE MEN HAVE GREAT SPORT FISHING IN THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

Miami, Fla., March 29
To The Editor:—

Rushville men now sojourning in Miami report magnificent sport on a fishing trip taken yesterday in the gulf stream a few miles out in the Atlantic Ocean to the east of Miami.
In the party were Thos. W. Lytle and Roy Abercrombie, of Rushville, Cramer Sexton, of Memphis, Tenn., who was born and is well known in Rushville, and John Banker of New Brunswick, N. J. The trip was made aboard the Gloria S., Captain Ga-gan.

Fifteen to twenty fish of various kinds were caught and about three in the afternoon, Lytle and Sexton
each hooked a sail-fish, probably the greatest fish caught in the gulf stream.
At the time the fish were hooked a large oil tank steamer was passing
and both fish made for it in an effort to get away. Lytle's fish succeeded in getting the line tangled up in the steamer and broke loose. Sexton's fish, however, was prevented from accomplishing the same tactics and

after forty-five minutes of strenuous work was finally hauled into the boat. It weighed 56 pounds, was a trifle over seven feet long and its spread of sail was some 32 inches.

Mr. Sexton reports that the playing and landing of such a fish is the hardest work imaginable. It pulls on the line almost the same as a horse,
and several times this fish had out
all but a few of the 900 feet of line
Now and then it leaped 8 to 10 feet
out of the water into the air in an endeavor to get the hook loose. When it would try to run away it was necessary to follow swiftly with the net boat to prevent it getting out all of the line. It is indeed strenuous work capturing such a fish and landing one of these fish is the goal of every deep sea angler. Lytle's fish had out 600 to 700 feet of line when it got away. The catch of the big sail fish by Cramer Sexton was the climax of a day of fine sport. Roy Abercrombie on another fishing trip

CHECK-UP IN COUNTY SCHOOLS IN PROGRESS

Tests For Comparison in Rockefeller Foundation Experiment Get Under Way Today

INSTRUCTORS ARE IN CHARGE

The tests in the county schools got under way this morning with a corps
of teachers and instructors sent here
to check up on the school work in connection with the experiment of the Rockefeller Foundation, in which a difference between supervised and ordinary teaching will be compared.

It will be recalled that last fall,
two counties in Indiana, Lagrange
and Johnson, were selected by the Rockefeller foundation, and expert supervision was placed in the schools of these counties, and financed by this association.

At the same time, two other counties were selected for tests, where ordinary teaching forces are employed, and Rush county was selected to offset Johnson county. At that time the test was made here and now
the check-up is being completed by the experienced instructors.

The principals of Rush county will visit the schools of Johnson county
Friday, as a part of their monthly
program for meetings.

AUTO AND BOX CAR FIRES

Both Extinguished by Firemen Without Any Great Loss

An automobile fire and a box car
fire, were reported over the week-end
by the fire department, with no loss
resulting in either case.

Sunday night at six o'clock an automobile caught fire from defective wiring, in a convenient place for the firemen, stopping within a few feet
from the station, and a small chemical was used to put out the blaze.

This morning at seven o'clock a box car was on fire in the Big Four railroad yards, and the chemical truck answered the call. Section men had the blaze extinguished, and a small hole was burned in the floor of the car. A spark from a train is believed to have set the sawdust on fire in the bottom of the car.

Members of the city council will take an excursion to the factory either this week or next week, and

15 ACCESSIONS TO THE CHURCH

with the Easter day which will begin with a sunrise prayer-meeting. Last night the pastor spoke on "The Unavoidable Christ." He used as his text Rev. 11:15. He said in part:

I always regret to hear parents presenting the idea to their children that God is a great policeman, ready to pounce upon them the moment they do wrong. That is neither the proper idea of God or a policeman. He is their friend, helper, and protector.

Parents, if you will bring up your children to reverence God in home, in church, in all of life and to love Jesus because he is a friend, a boon companion, you will have done them an everlasting kindness.

Make the chief impression of the home that of a joyful religious fellowship, so that they will remember it as the place where God's benediction rested upon them and you have left them a far richer heritage than that of earthly possessions.

Take Jesus out of this earth and life is deprived of every worth while and worthy ambition.

Take him out of heaven and there would be such a void that none of us would want to go there.

He is the world's greatest teacher. There was authority back of His teaching. Our great poets found Him.

Tennyson said of Him:

"Thou seemest human and divine,
"The highest, holiest manhood thou;
"Our wills are ours, we know not how
"Our wills are ours to make them thine."

Saint Guadalupe, one of America's leading sculptors, illustrates our subject. He had grown up without any conscious religious conviction. He read the Gospels merely to get the spirit of Christ. After reading and meditating he said: "That man can have anything he wants of me. All that I have is his."

Our text has a world wide vision. That vision fired the heart of Paul. That group of young men who sought the haystack as a shelter from the storm got the vision, then helped to make it possible.

The heaven must work in every village, home, storm, factor, legislature, court and financial institution.

The command of Jesus includes far more than the act of baptism or confession of faith. A long process of Christian education is emphasized: "Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

Jesus is unavoidable in the places of crime and many a criminal has forsaken his evil way and turned to Him.

He is unavoidable on the train. He is our companion as we journey.

In eternity He is unavoidable. When the young French nobleman found him his question, "Where spend eternity?" was answered and his infidelity was gone.

Make His acquaintance now so that in eternity he will be your friend and not your judge.

At St. Paul's Church

The Rev. H. W. Hargett took for the subject of his sermon Sunday morning at the St. Paul's M. E. church, "The Wondrous Cross," the text being taken from Romans 5:8, "God Commendeth His own Love Toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." His sermon in part was as follows:

That text leads us to the wondrous cross. The cross is the supreme symbol of our faith. It stands for redemption through sacrifice. We shall never be saved by our wealth, our culture, our philosophy, our laws, our civilization, but through the sacrificial life and death of our Lord and Savior. The new testament, both in the gospels and epistles, gives a large place to the cross of Christ. On account of crude imperfect views that have offended the moral sense and have not harmonized with the God revealed through the teaching of Jesus, there has been some revolt against this cardinal doctrine of Christianity.

Today it is vindicated in a most remarkable manner by the teachings of science of sociology and of all the higher forms of civilization. Once the poet traced in the passion flower, the symbol of redemption, the cross, the crown of thorns, the spear. Today we find the very earth itself a great passion flower revealing in its rocks and its manifold forms of life the sign of the cross and the working of the great law of vicarious sacrifice. "Life evermore is fed by death, in earth and sea and sky, And that a flower may breathe its breath, something must die."

Think of the institutions which are our common heritage. Can you measure the cost in blood and tears that has gone into the redemption of the Christian homes of today? Can you estimate the price paid for our civil and religious liberty, a price paid in the blood of our forefathers that stained the soil of Lexington Green and Bunker Hill and crimsoned the snows of Valley Forge? These are but fragments pointing the way to the mighty redeeming work of God through the sacrificial life and death of Jesus Christ. In him the meaning of the eternal purpose of God finds its expression. "He is the lamb slain from the foundation of the world." If it costs us so much to build our little world, how much more must it cost God to redeem and save a world. So long as we find the sign of the cross on the works of man and on all the works and in all the Word of God, we shall be able to say:

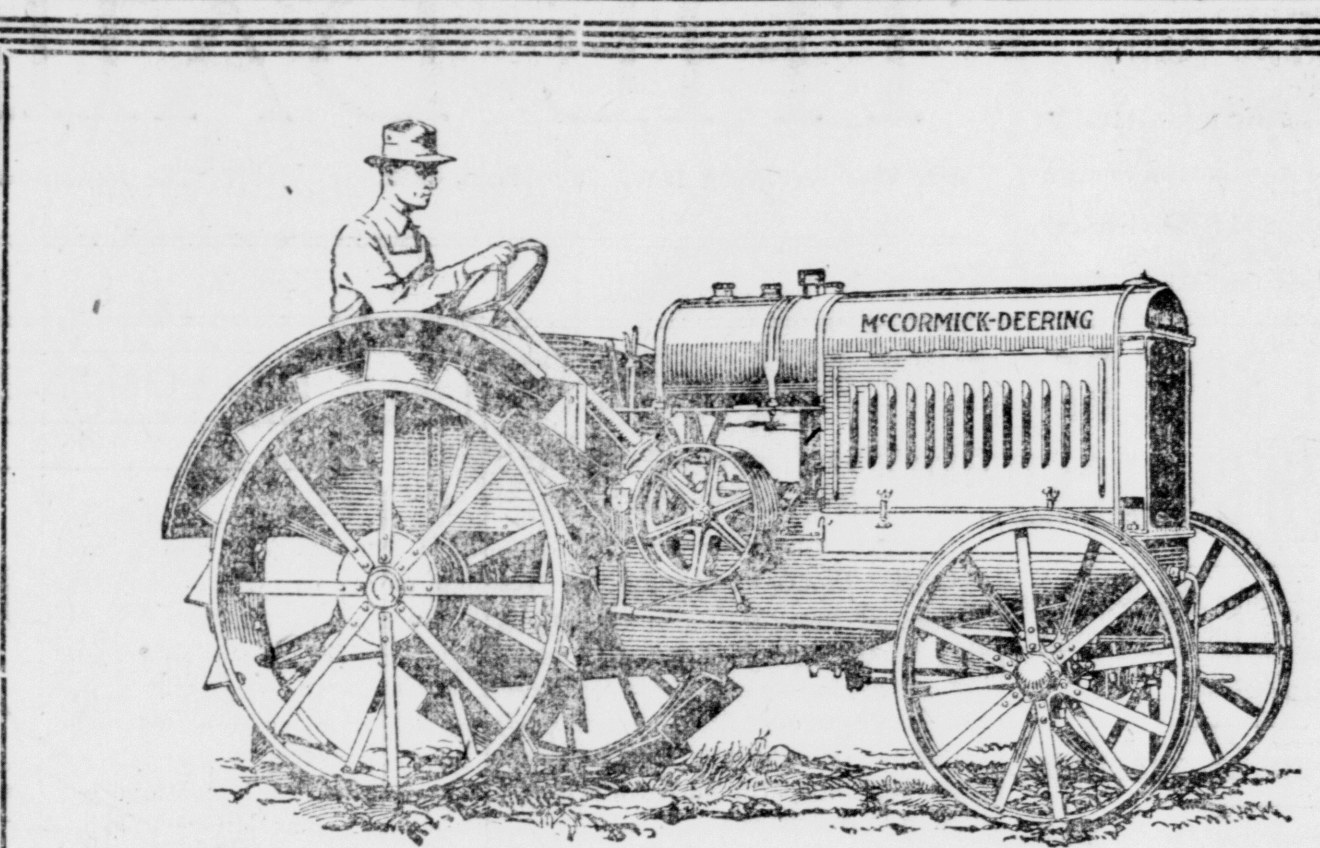

"When I survey the wondrous cross, on which the Prince of Glory died, My richest gain I count but loss, and pour contempt on all my pride."

At the close of the sermon there were five accessions to the church. The topic of the Lenten Meditation for Thursday evening will be "In the Upper Room."

New Salem Revival Opens

The evangelistic meetings at the New Salem Methodist Protestant church began Sunday with splendid interest and a good attendance was present for all the services. The pastor, the Rev. P. W. Boxwell, is assisted in this campaign for souls by Evangelist J. C. McCaslin of Anderson, Ind., a regular ordained minister of the Indiana conference of the Methodist Protestant church, who rendered three special selections of gospel music and delivered three evangelistic messages Sunday.

"A Clear Vision of Jesus Christ" was the subject of the morning sermon, in which the evangelist used the following scriptures as a text, "Sirs! We would see Jesus." "They saw no man save Jesus only." "I Determined to know nothing among you save

The Alterer of Habits

FRANK STOCKTON wrote a tale about a monarch who relied on an official called the "Discourager of Hesitancy." This officer's task was to prod folks who dallied over important decisions.

Modern advertising likewise fosters prompt and judicious decisions. But advertising might better be called the "Alterer of Habits." It brings many changes to pass. And these changes are for the better—always.

Advertising has revolutionized the personal habits as well as the buying habits of the nation. It has elevated our standards of living. It has made us eat better, sleep better and dress better. It has added countless comforts and conveniences to the daily life of each one of us.

Advertising has taught us how to find the best buys in almost everything imaginable without indulging in the needless habit of "shopping around." It tells us just where and when to go for what we want and how much to pay. It lets us compare prices and qualities without even stirring from our homes. It vouchsafes our money's worth.

Do you read the advertisements that appear daily in this paper?

It's a profitable habit

MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1924

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage.—Psalm 16:5, 6.

Finding Ourselves

There are few communities, and Rushville is no exception, that do not need a little appreciation at home, in order to get ahead.

Every community has its good points, but in most instances, few people appreciate them.

Rushville is so attractive, such a really fine place and has such fine people, that most of its inhabitants are well satisfied and say "let well enough alone" or "let someone else do it."

Letting someone else, when it comes to matters of public welfare, will not work out in actual practice. There are two reasons; there is no somebody else if everybody puts it up to someone else.

Besides, if we let someone else do it, we lose half of the benefit, because in the doing of something for the common good, for the welfare of the community as a whole, there is a very direct and positive benefit which redounds to the doer because of the act of doing develops a better man and a broader and fuller citizen.

No man may live for himself alone. He is the shortest-sighted man in the world who thinks he can.

He is little less than a man at all who attempts to attend strictly to his own business and takes no interest in community welfare.

Every man can do something for the advancement of the community.

Every man owes it to the community to do something more than merely pay his taxes, for the taxes are spent for the community good and, therefore, the taxpayer gets his money's worth in return for a fair assessment.

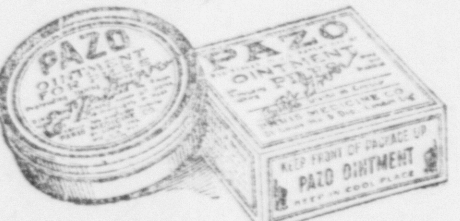

Communities, like individuals, are too apt to become self-satisfied if they are reasonably well to do. Ease and contentment always follow success. A jolt sometimes brings them to life.

If Rushville were put under the stress of some great calamity, it would surprise even itself by the energy and activity with which it would meet and solve the problem.

But as matters stand, it looks like nothing short of a severe shock would wake us up. We as a community are not asleep, but dozing drowsily and very apt to drop into peaceful slumber.

Rushville needs to find itself.

It needs to get over and above the affliction of self-satisfaction—just as individuals need to overcome it—and to find out its shortcomings.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT

NEA Service Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The spirit of Boies Penrose, former boss of the G. O. P., does not rest well under the aspersions cast against himself and his beloved party by witnesses before the Senate investigating committee.

Such, at least, is the interpretation placed on ghostly manifestations in Penrose's old apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Penrose's former suite is now occupied by Mary Roberts Rinehart, novelist and author of mystery plays, but Mary never put into her fiction more thrilling situations than she experiences now at home. Uncanny incidents have happened from time to time in the apartment ever since Mrs. Rinehart moved in. But since witnesses in the Senate inquiry have charged that the Republican nomination in 1920 was an outright case of buy and sell, and since Al Jennings swore Jake Hamon told him Penrose got $250,000 in the transaction, the place has become more than ever spooky in its weird happenings.

Rappings, tapings and strange noises like restless footsteps abound. Penrose's old easy chair takes fits of rocking violently to and fro. Tables tip eerily.

Even Mrs. Rinehart, who is of an investigator's turn of mind and not readily rattled, having been investigating "spirits" and such for years, is getting to feel creepy. And politicians in Washington just from hearing about it are getting jumpy.

IF the presidency is as much of a grind as the life of a conscientious member of the Senate, then it has little lure for Sam Ralston of Indiana. Ralston, as a pivotal individual from the pivotal state, is regarded as the likely winner in

CLIPPING OUT REFUND CHECKS AT 4,500 A DAY

More Than Half of Automobile License Refund Checks Have Been Filled Out and Mailed

SYSTEM IS COMPLICATED

Indianapolis, April 5—If you haven't received your auto license refund check, don't give up hope. You will get it soon. Such is the encouraging word forthcoming today from the state auto license department.

A battery of six girl typists in the department are clipping out refund checks at the rate of 4,500 a day. More than half the checks have been filled out and mailed. If you have not gotten yours, it's because you belong to the unlucky latter half.

The system of refunding the checks is rather complicated, and every precaution is being taken to see that every motorist gets his refund, and that at the same time no one is overpaid.

Girl stenographers make out the checks and then two men on the staff of the auto license department go over the checks and see that they are correct.

Then the amount of each check is audited by two field examiners of the state board of accounts, Ed Brennan and Webb Gilbert.

The motorists get back $1,000,000 and pay $6,000 for it. Postage, for example, will cost $3,000 alone; envelopes $500, checks $500 and other items accordingly.

BOY AUTO BANDITS

Richmond, Ind., April 5—Four negroes and one Italian, ranging in age from fifteen to seventeen, were held here today on charges of auto banditry. The gang has been operating in this part of the state for the last six months, and theft of eleven cars has been traced to them, police declared.

the Dark Horse Sweepstakes at the Democratic convention.

"But Sam isn't running," he insists. If he gets the nomination it will be because he was run, not because he ran. He will serve, if drafted for the job. It would be neither human nor patriotic to refuse. But at 66, when one has lived a busy life and has accumulated avoidances as well as honors, ambition gets sluggish. And even the lure of the presidency fails to stir Sam's pulses. The big easy chair by the fireside in his Indiana home somehow seems more inviting than the stiff-backed, formal affair at the end of the cabinet table.

And the grind! Between the millstones of politics and statecraft, Ralston recognizes the president has no chin. A harder job to handle than that of just being senator.

And yet he finds the job of senator a rather vain and futile one. "It's just a damned treadmill," he confided to a friend the other day. "Sometimes I wish I'd never got into it."

And if his own wishes—at least his spoken wishes—are complied with he'll keep on the side lines, not in the race, this fall.

ON second thought—do you suppose Ralston's protests are just good Indiana politics? Those Hoosiers are crafty critics!

FOR the first time in history, the Democratic presidential campaign will be conducted from Washington this year.

In making this decision, national committee leaders were influenced by the fact that Washington public facilities are now the best in the country, that the expenses of moving headquarters files, personnel, etc., would be saved, and that employees when transferred to temporary campaign headquarters at New York look on their stay there as a lark and act accordingly.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican

Wednesday, April 7, 1909

J. Riley Small, formerly of Rushville, now occupying an enviable position in musical circles in Indianapolis, and Indiana as well, will give a Lenten organ recital at Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Indianapolis, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, commemorating Passion Day.

There seems to be no doubt about the matter now, that the city of Rushville is soon to have a day current of electricity, that will fill a long felt want among the business men as well as the inhabitants of the residence district.

Elmer, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rees, living east of here, fell against a tree while playing tag at school and cut a gash in his forehead. Dr. Paxton of Greenwood was called and four stitches were taken to close the wound which was very deep.

The Rushville Glove Factory will close down tonight for a month, while new machinery is being installed and other extensive improvements made. The industry is proving to be a better proposition than the promoters anticipated.

William Frazee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frazee of West Third street, underwent an operation for enlarged tonsils at the Sexton sanitarium this morning. Dr. Barnhart of Indianapolis performed the operation.

Robert Hinchaw of Hamilton, Ohio, passed through this city yesterday enroute to Carthage to attend the funeral of Harry Rhoades.

Joseph Pugh is adding a veranda to the south and east sides of his cottage at the southwest corner of Fifth and Arthur streets. It will add much to the cozy appearance of the cottage and will be a pleasant retreat for the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mitchell, during the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reardon, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mullins and Michael Cleary returned from Muncie today, where they attended the funeral of Michael Grady.

Gus Wilkinson and family have removed to Decatur, Illinois, where Mr. Wilkinson has a position in a bakery.

Miss Florence Maston and Caroline Cecil, who are students in Indiana university, attended the funeral of Mrs. John Wanship yesterday afternoon. They returned to Bloomington this afternoon.

Mrs. Bert Talbot and daughter, Hypatia and Lucille of Indianapolis are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Marshall, west of this city.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN SUGGESTED FOR NATIONAL TOAST CAMPAIGN

The National Toast Campaign is a movement in the interests of the nation's health and prosperity.

It is merchandising co-operation on a vast scale.

Those interests which can profit by a better balance of production, fabrication, and consumption of those standard foods which form the basis of our American diet are working together in a unified effort to make this co-operation a success.

The basis of the whole campaign is increased consumption of wheat foods.

The American wheat farmer finds his formerly profitable foreign market for wheat rapidly disappearing. Depreciation in the buying power of the wheat farmer has produced a national economic situation which requires immediate remedial measures.

While the farmer is reducing his wheat acreage and increasing his yield through diversification and better farming methods, an immediate opportunity is offered to the standard food industries of the United States, with their allied trades, to expand the domestic market for the farmers' principal cash crop, with incidental profit to themselves.

The people of the United States, since the war, have not returned to that proportion of wheat consumption which means the most wholesome and economical diet.

Before the war, we used 5.06 bushels of wheat per capita per year. Since the war we have averaged but 4.22 bushels of this basic food. The Eat More Wheat campaign is already a great national movement, sound from every point of view. The National Toast Campaign is a part of this movement.

As a nation we are governed in our eating by the appetite appeal. We eat that extra slice of bread when toasted, because we like it better than something else on the table. Toast dishes, toast with other foods, make our meals more appetizing. Every toasting appliance, electric or gas, used in the home means one or more loaves per week for that family. That has been proven. Only 12 out of every 100 homes supplied with electric current have toasters in them. That leaves over nine million wired homes in the United States without electric toasters.

There are many more millions of homes supplied with gas where no toasting appliances are used.

Here is an enormous undeveloped field for the introduction of toast. The desire for a new toaster is already established in most homes. Only a stimulated interest in toast and an opportunity to make it properly, to taste its goodness, are needed to confirm its continued use.

The wheaty taste is one of which mankind has never tired. It truly represents the staff of life. Toasted, the accentuated flavors harmonize with other foods, lending zest, the appetite appeal to every meal. It is a better, more digestible, more tasty, nutritious food.

Many thousands of toasters already sold by reason of the advertising of a few concerns are evidence of results to be expected. Reports of increased sales from bakeries where toast campaigns are running have confirmed the campaign's value.

The universal interest and the successful experience of the Toast Campaign as presented by the American Institute of Baking in August, 1923, made it necessary to broaden the scope of the campaign. Those food industries with their allied trades, who were vitally interested in the increased use of wheat foods toasted, must be enabled to take advantage of the movement by coordinating their efforts with those of the electrical and baking industries.

The Wheat Council of the United States, in conference with the key men representing 29 food industries and allied trades, developed in Chicago a co-operative plan of campaign enthusiastically supported by all groups, which is applicable at once to conditions in every city in the United States. Many features in this plan have already become national in effect.

Building on a fundamental ideal in American Business, great food industries for the first time are co-ordinating their forces around a common carrier, each helping the other to find a better market and develop new business, all in the interests of better national health and prosperity.

THE PLAN

A. Publicity.

B. Individual Coordinated Effort: Electrical, Gas, Hardware Dealer, Millers and Flour Clubs, Retail Bakers, Wholesale Bakers, Retail Grocers, Wholesale Grocers, Butter and Milk, Cheese, Yeast, Hotels and Restaurants, Meat Packers and Butchers, Women's Clubs and Activities, General Advertising, Civic Endorsement, Department Stores.

Your Part

The Wheat Council of the United States presents you this opportunity to take part in the biggest organized cooperative movement ever undertaken by American Food industries.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR ATHLETICS

Connie Mack, Manager of Philadelphia Club, Spent Busy Winter Adding New Players

THREE FROM THE MINORS

Two Outfielders And An Infielder Secured From Baltimore Club—Other Players Primed

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 7—While other managers were talking about last winter what they wanted to do, or what they were going to do, Connie Mack went out and did it.

By the generous use of cash, Mack strengthened the Philadelphia Athletics with three of the most highly touted minor league players in the country.

He secured two outfielders, Simmons and Strand and Max Bishop, a second baseman who made a great reputation at Baltimore. With these three stars added to material left from last year, which was far from the worst, Mack boasts that his team is back in the race.

"We'll finish second this year and next year we'll displace the New York Yankees as champions," Mack said recently.

Chick Galloway, the short stop, is one of the best players in the game and with a man at left who can work with more finish on double plays and who will not force him to cover short center, Galloway should be a vastly improved player.

Bishop, Mack has said already, is the player who can give Galloway that help.

Sammy Hale at third base isn't the best third baseman in the league, neither is he the worst. His work suffered last year by the desire to live up to the flattering things that had been said about his minor league playing. He should be an improved player because Galloway can pay more attention to the border line of his territory.

Hauser at first base completes what should be a good infield. He is a reliable fielder and a 300 hitter. Simmons and Strand, with the veterans Miller and Walkner in the outfield, supply a hard hitting, able charged up last year with the punch that was given them by Spark Plag Matthews but when Matthews dubbed out in mid-season the whole team dubbed along with him. Simmons and Strand may be able to start the same inspiration and make it more permanent.

Ralph Perkins is one of the best catchers in the league and Bruggy is relief man.

Eddie Rommel, who may be expected to have a better season than he had last year, heads the pitching staff, which consists of Hasty, Heimach, Naylor, Harris, Walberg and Ogden. Mack figures that he will have better results all down the line and he may have. He will have to get more games out of his staff if he hopes to be the runner up club this season.

The Athletics haven't the punch of the Cleveland Indians and they lack the pitching strength of the Yankees and the Indians. It is not easy to find a reason why they should beat out the Indians or win the pennant. They have a splendid chance, however, to finish in the first division.

QUIT STATE'S SERVICE

Indianapolis, April 4—Carl Wilde, director of service for the state public service commission and A. B. Cronk, head of the tariff department, have announced their resignation from their state positions.

Bicknell—"Loan me a dollar for them," said an intoxicated man as he showed his false teeth to a garage employee. The latter pointed the way to a pawn shop.

PHILLIPS MAY GET TO TRYOUT FOR OLYMPICS

Rushville Boy in Butler Being Backed For Opportunity to Get on Olympic Team

CAN JUMP AS WELL AS RUN

A report in the Indianapolis News Saturday evening says that Herman Phillips, Rushville boy who defeated Joie Ray at Louisville a week ago Saturday night, may get a shot at the Olympic tryouts this summer. The article accompanied an "action" picture of Phillips and is as follows:

Spot this fellow while he's just starting—he's hard to see once he gets under way. His name is Herman Phillips—ever hear of him? Joie Ray has.

Phillips is the Butler College freshman from Rushville, whose daily capers on Irwin field, not to mention his victory over Ray at the Louisville A. A. U. meet last week, are outstanding features of the early track season.

Phillips runs everything from the 220-yard dash to the mile, and out-steps the Bulldog veterans in every event. In the Butler interclass meet Friday track men were not allowed to compete in their regular events, so Phillips took up broad jumping and won the event with a leap better than twenty feet.

Being a freshman, Phillips will get no collegiate competition this year, but his showing already has been such as to justify some very elaborate predictions for next year and even cause his backers to hope that he may be given a shot at the Olympic tryouts this summer.

JEOPARDIZE OWN AND THE SCHOOL STANDING

High School Athletes Playing on Teams Other Than Their Own May be Held Ineligible

RULING BY THE STATE BOARD

High school basketball players, who participate in games after the state final tourney, on any teams other than their own school, jeopardize their own standing for spring athletics this year and for basketball next year, and also jeopardize the standing of their high school in the state association, according to an announcement made by A. L. Trester, state secretary, in a communication to E. B. Butler, local high school principal.

This decision was re-affirmed at the board meeting of the state association held in Indianapolis March 29. Several players who expect to take part in track and baseball games and who have played on other teams since the basketball season ended, will be ineligible to finish the spring athletic season, according to the ruling.

Mr. Trester, in sending out the announcement, asks the principals to warn all high school students of the danger of being thrown out of future athletics, by playing with a team other than their own high school. Such playing usually lacks the proper supervision and regulation, and frequently the games may be played with persons designated as being in the professional class.

GUN CLUB WILL ORGANIZE

Meeting Will Be Held in Court House Tuesday Evening

The Rushville Gun Club will perfect an organization in this city Tuesday night, when the twenty members who have signified their intentions of belonging to it, will meet in the court house to elect officers and proceed to the organization program.

The meeting is scheduled for eight o'clock, and will be held in the commissioner's room. All of those who have signed up for the new association, as well as those who are interested in the matter, are urged to attend the first meeting, and assist in electing the officers.

FOR PHI BETA KAPPA

Greencastle, Ind., April 5—De Pauw faculty members of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, today announced the election of 14 seniors and 3 juniors to the organization. Jack Hadley Bryan, of Evansville, and Lucille Rhoads, Auburn, were among those elected to membership.

Bryn Mawr's Unbeaten Basketball Team

The basketball team of Bryn Mawr has gone through the season without a defeat being chalked against it. The players are (back row, left to right) Frances Jay, New York; Caroline Remok, Chestnut Hill, Pa.; Sally McAdoo, Los Angeles, daughter of Wm. G. McAdoo; (front row, left to right) Germaine Leewitz, New York; Suzanne Leewitz, captain; Mary Pollache, Cambridge, Mass.

Tells Why Lynch Crashed

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, April 7—Two big shots are all that the summer boxing program can hold. The outdoor season last summer was overcrowded with feature events and promoters and the public suffered.

These are the opinions of Tex Rickard, America's premier boxing promoter, who admits that he is facing his biggest job in giving the sport public this summer the best in the smallest quantity.

"It was my intention originally to try two big spectacles with Jack Dempsey in one corner, but I find now that this will be impossible. I can use Dempsey only once, and his single appearance must be in the windup show of the season," Rickard said.

Rickard insists that the plans be had in mind for Dempsey were set aside by the insistence of Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, that his charge was not in physical condition to take any kind of a chance until September.

In announcing that he had been forced to abandon plans for a Dempsey-Gibbons contest early in June, Rickard told the United Press that he was willing to stage the contest, that he had reached an agreement on terms with Gibbons, but that Kearns said his champion wasn't in condition to go.

Kearns claims that he was all set to go, that he had placed a return match with Gibbons first on his list of prospects, but that Rickard had told him that it would be impossible to stage a big championship match until the Democrats had picked their man to make the big race this fall.

"I told Rickard," Kearns said, "that we could not remain idle until June, because it would take at least 45 days to steam up the fight and that would run us into the late summer. We couldn't sign for a July or an August date and keep it quiet until the first of July."

"We had many offers for other fights. Jim Coffroth wanted to put us on in Tijuana early in the summer. We had offers for a fight with Gibbons from several other promoters and we had a couple of movie contracts that we had to consider because the price was so good. So I told Rickard if he couldn't do business for an early June date we would have to look elsewhere."

BUTLER CLAIMS 620 DELEGATES

Manager of President Coolidge's Campaign Foresees Big Victory by April 22

CLAIMS TOTAL NOW 385

In Claiming 620 Delegates by April 22, Manager Says He is Making Liberal Allowances

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Washington, April 7.—By April 22, President Coolidge will have 620 delegates to the Republican national convention, Wm. M. Butler, his campaign manager said here today.

Butler claimed a total of 385 delegates for Coolidge now, including those from Maine, eight from Missouri, the Connecticut uncommitted delegation and three from Ohio.

Butler's claim of 620 by April 22 "makes liberal allowance for any contingency," he said.

Butler has just come here from Chicago for a series of conferences in which will be settled the temporary and permanent chairmanships of the Cleveland convention and the chairmanship of the Republican national committee. It has been definitely decided that John T. Adams, the president Chairman will not continue in that position after the convention. The chairman to be chosen in June will be the active manager of the Coolidge campaign from then on, assuming that Coolidge is nominated, as all indications are that he will be.

Butler said his survey of conditions in the middle west and west convinced him that Nebraska and California that are the only states where Coolidge faces a real pre-convention fight. He said Coolidge will carry Nebraska, but made no predictions concerning Hiram Johnson's home state.

The current investigation by the senate will be forgotten by the public in the main before the campaign is very old, Butler predicted.

"I think it unlikely that they will have much effect on the campaign," he said. "It will proceed in my opinion, along normal lines."

Butler added that he had "heard it said" that the investigations were hurting business but he would not make that statement himself, he said.

He had no comment at the moment, Butler said, on the suggestion that Senator Borah be named temporary chairman and keynoter of the convention. His own senatorial candidacy will not interfere to any great degree, Butler stated with his close attention to the Coolidge campaign. However, he made it plain that this statement applied only to the pre-convention campaign and was not to be taken as an intimation that he would head the national committee. The matter, he said, has not been settled.

Barnard argued that Brown in his testimony had admitted taking notes of Governor McCray for the money.

He continued that McCray had a perfect right to do what he pleased with the loan.

McCray was charged by the statute with safe-keeping of the funds of the board of agriculture, Barnard contended. The statute says only those officials charged with the care of the money can be guilty of embezzlement, Barnard said. "The governor does not come within that class in respect to the funds."

At the conclusion of Barnard's argument, Eph Inman, assistant prosecutor, argued for the state.

Stomach and Bowel Trouble vs. Asthma

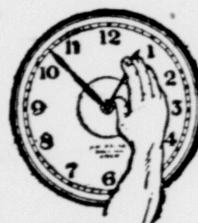

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 60
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

QUESTION:—I noticed your ad last week on Asthma. Is your health method equally as good in stomach and bowel disorders?

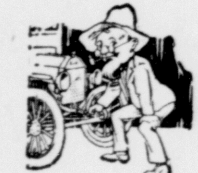

ANSWER:—Just as relieving pressure at the spine from the nerves that supply the bronchial tubes, and allowing a free flow of life force will restore a normal condition where so-called asthma has been present, so will relieving a pressure from the nerves supplying the stomach and bowels restore a normal function.

The same Life Force that emanates from the brain over the nerves and keeps the bronchii functioning normally (if the nerves are free from pressure at the spine) keeps the stomach, bowels, and every other part of the body in a normal condition.

In bronchial trouble the pressure is at a certain point in the spine, in stomach disorders another point, in kidney disorder still another point, etc.

Health turns the Clock Backward

Uncle Ben Says:

"Why pray cream on Sunday, Nephew, and live skin milk the rest of the week."

Yes, our Health Method is equally as good in any functional disorder as in So-called Asthma.

In proof we submit the following testimonial:—

ANOTHER RUSHVILLE MAN THANKFUL

For ten years I was a constant sufferer with stomach, bowel and liver trouble, and nervousness. I tried everything in the line of drugs and was even advised to have my teeth pulled, which I did, all without results.

Food seemed to do me no good as I kept losing weight and strength. My color was bad and my nerves were so on edge that I could not sleep at night. At times I thought I was losing my mind. I had a severe pain constantly between my shoulders and a feeling of pressure in the back of my neck. My eyes ached and were sore to pressure. My stomach and bowels were sore all the time. I had to use a purgative every night.

After finding that drugs would not reach my trouble, I started taking Chiropractic Adjustments from Drs. McCully & McCully. They do not give drugs in any form, but use just straight Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. They relieved me of all my trouble and my health is now good. I have gained fifteen pounds in weight, my color is good, I have no pain, and my nervousness has completely disappeared, and I sleep fine.

I am only too glad to recommend Drs. McCully & McCully and Chiropractic to any one and feel sure that if they accept a case they will get results as they have for me.

William J. Burns, Chief of Investigation Department, Denies Any Reports to That Effect

INTERVIEWED BY WRITER

Says He Sees No Reason Why Every Man Appointed by Daugherty, Should Quit Their Posts

MOM'N POP

Mom Gets There Just The Same

By Taylor.

Are they going to oust every man Daugherty appointed?"

Sitting at his desk in a large private office in the department of justice building he might have been the general manager of a corporation. His luncheon, consisting of a box of sandwiches and a pickle, had just been brought to him when I entered and he apologized for eating as we talked.

I asked Burns if there was truth in reports of his having caused cabinet members, senators, representatives, and citizens engaged in the department of justice investigations to be shadowed or otherwise investigated.

This he flatly denied. "Was a department of justice investigator concerned in the Cleveland hotel episode related by Miss Roxie Stinson?" I inquired.

"Absolutely not," said Burns. "It is commonly reported," I said, "that department of justice files or photostats of such files have gotten into the hands of the Burns Detective Agency. Is there any truth in that?"

"Such a thing is absolutely impossible," Burns answered. "Is your opinion of Gaston B. Means still as high as it used to be?" I inquired, remembering that Burns had spoken in the highest terms of Means.

He answered the question but added "I do not want to be quoted as discussing Means because of the peculiar situation that exists."

Asked if he knew Howard Mannington, who is on his way back from France to testify before the senatorial committee investigating Daugherty, Burns replied: "Mannington was in Ohio politics. I knew him well in Columbus when I lived there."

"What kind of man is he?" "A fine, clean fellow," Burns answered, "a splendid fellow."

"Were you ever at Mannington's large green house on K street?" "Never."

"Is it not true," I asked, "that the methods of this bureau have been rougher since the war?"

"It is not," Burns replied. "When I came here I found the bureau badly demoralized. Everyone was working at cross purposes but I now have a high degree of efficiency and a splendid lot of men. I have fired the loafers, drunkards and rough-necks, cut out of the mystery stuff and the flashing of badges, and instructed the men to be civil to the public at all times.

"All my life my object has been to prevent crime, to educate criminals to an understanding of the enormous forces arrayed against them."

"What we want to do," said Burns as I was leaving his office, "is to make the crooks understand that no crook can be permanently successful."

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS

Old Age Should be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant backache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills. Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Rushville proof:

M. E. Warfue, 901 N. Sexton St., says: "I can say a good word for Doan's Pills, for I have used them when my back troubled me and my kidneys were disordered. After using one box, I was relieved of the trouble. Another member of the family has also used Doan's with good results."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mr. Warfue had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

EXERCISE CARE TO PROTECT MEANING

Interpreters Complete Task of Translating Results of Committee's Labors Into French

TO MAKE REPORTS PUBLIC

Cautions French That "Three Distinguished Americans Are Largely Responsible For Plans."

By WEBB MILLER
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, April 7.—Care to preserve the most minute shades of meaning in the draft of the experts reports was taken today as interpreters completed the task of translating the results of the committee's labors from English into French.

As soon as the two texts are identical, Louis Barthou France's representative on the reparations commission, will summon his colleagues to receive the reports. This is expected to occur Saturday night or Sunday.

The reports are awaited with interest. They will be made public as soon as submitted to the commission. General Dawes, American chairman of the committee number one, major report, and Reginald McKenna, will read a covering letter with the chairman of committee No. 2, will likewise cover his report on German capital abroad.

Louis Barthou, who will reply for the commission, said copies will be given to each member and to the various governments, who will be afforded opportunity to study the findings. A meeting, to which the Germans will be invited, then will be called.

Barthou informally cautioned the French press to remember that "three distinguished Americans are largely responsible for the plans" and the French newspapers should therefore use all possible delicacy in commenting thereon.

ILLEGAL SALE OF LIQUOR CHARGED

Bert Wilson, Living Northeast of Here, Alleged to Have Sold Pint
of Whiskey

DRAW SUSPENDED SENTENCES

Meredith Horrall and Louis Dagler
Plead Guilty to Arsony Thefts—
Other Criminal Matters

Business in the criminal court
picked up over the week end, with an arrest being made, two suspended
sentences given out and bondsmen
surrendering a prisoner.

The series of events begun Saturday afternoon with the arrest of Bert
Wilson, a farmer living two miles
northeast of Rushville, who is charged with unlawfully selling liquor.

Meredith Horrall and Louis Dagler,
each 20 years old, who have been held
in jail for two months on a larceny
charge were arraigned this morning
and pleaded guilty, and each received
a sentence of from one to 14 years at
the reformatory, which was suspended
during their good behavior.

Thomas Fox and Anna Hillgoss,
bondsmen for Charley Capp Miller, a farmer of Walker township, held on a charge of illegal manufacture of liquor, appeared before Sheriff Hunt
Saturday night about 9 o'clock and
asked to be released from the $2,500
bond.

The defendant was with them, and went to jail when they withdrew from his bond. Miller obtained a change of judge last week, and his case will be tried before Fremont Miller, regular
judge of the Johnson county court, whoever it is convenient for him to come here for the case.

Chester Taylor and Donald Newman, who are held in jail upon default of bonds, on a joint charge of conspiracy to sell liquor, were granted a change of judge and the draw ended in the same judge getting the case, and Judge Miller has set the case for trial May 8.

The state struck off the names of
Judge Craig, Greensburg, and Judge
Fred Hives, Noblesville, and the defense struck off the names of Judge
James Collins, Indianapolis, and
Judge Charles Lowe of Lawrenceburg
leaving the selection to the Franklin,
Ind., judge. He stated that he could not hear the case until May 8.

The arrest of Wilson was brought about Saturday afternoon when the
authorities were told about the sale
of a pint of liquor at the farm home,
and a search warrant was obtained,
but nothing found. The man was arrested on the strength of the alleged sale of the liquor. Wilson formerly lived in Rushville in North Sexton
street, and a few months ago was fined $100 and costs on a charge of violating the liquor laws.

Horrall and Dagler, who were former members of Company C, Rush-
ville's national guard unit, admitted
their guilt of stealing from the government, and upon their promise not

FORMER RUSHVILLE BANKER DIES TODAY

John Megee, 77, at One Time Assistant Cashier of Rushville National Expires in Indianapolis

BODY WILL BE BROUGHT HERE

John Megee, a former banker of this city, died at noon today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Donald McIntosh, 5729 University Avenue, Indianapolis, according to word received here this afternoon.

The deceased was a native of this city, but after retiring from business had been making his home in Indianapolis. For thirty years he was assistant cashier at the Rushville National bank, and was well known here.

He was 77 years old. The cause of his death was not learned.

He is survived by two children,
Mrs. McIntosh, at whose home he died, and Edwin Megee, also of Indianapolis. Mrs. Sara Henley, 723 North Harrison street, was a stepdaughter, and it is understood that the remains will be brought to this home late tonight, and funeral services will be announced later.

CLOUD MUST MOVE TIME

Judge Sparks Overrules Motion for
New Trial in Court

Cecil Cloud, convicted on the charge of first degree murder by a jury in the circuit court here week
before last, will serve his sentence of life imprisonment at Michigan City,
following the decision in the court
Saturday, when the motion for a new trial was overruled.

Cloud was found guilty by the jury
of killing Luther C. Sharp, meat shop
owner, and city councilman, who he
was alleged to have attempted to hold
him up, and shot him when he failed
to hand over the money. The motion was argued Saturday, and decided against the prisoner by Judge Sparks.

DENIES MOTION TO INSTRUCT JURY

Judge Chamberlin Rules on Move of Defense to Acquit Gov. McCray
on Larceny Charge

NO RULING ON OTHER PHASE

Court Holds That Question is Matter for Jury to Decide and Not
Question of Law

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 7—A motion of attorneys for Governor Mc-Cray to instruct the jury hearing the
case against the governor on charges
of larceny and embezzlement, to return a verdict of not guilty, was overruled as to the larceny count by Judge Chamberlin today.

Judge Chamberlin announced he would make his ruling on the embezzlement count at the opening of the afternoon session.

"If the court had concluded under
the evidence up to this time that this was a loan to the governor, your argument would be conclusive as to larceny," Judge Chamberlin said. "But
there certainly can be larceny, it seems to me, if the theory of the state is correct as to the manner in which the money was applied."

"The whole point is whether this was a loan to the governor or to his
bank," Judge Chamberlin continued.
"This is a matter for the jury to decide. For me to decide would be to invade the province of the jury."

"The rule that a court must decide
a question of law does not apply
where reasonable men can differ."

The loan to which the judge referred was the transactions by which $155,000 of the funds of the state board of agriculture were turned over
to McCray.

The state contended the money was intended for deposit in McCray's
bank in Kentland and the defense is fighting to establish its assertion that the money was a personal loan to the governor.

Judge Barnard, attorney for Mc-Cray, attacked the indictment and
the testimony on the charges.

"The indictment charges the governor with embezzlement and larceny
of the funds of the state of Indiana,"
he said. "The fact is that Newt
Brown, (former secretary-treasurer of the board) loaned the money of
the board of agriculture—not that of the state."

CHAMBERS NAMED RECEIVER

Rushville Man Provides $20,000
Bond in Billings Case

Edward J. Chambers of this city
has been appointed receiver for George Billings, following the series
of law suits filed in the circuit court
by alleged creditors. The Rushville
National bank, in one of their complaints on a $5,000 note against Billings, demanded a receiver, and
evidence of the question was heard
by the court, and the appointment
of Mr. Chambers was made. Bond in the sum of $20,000 was furnished.

Billings, who is a farmer of Union township, has disappeared following the filing of several suits in court last week, according to Sheriff Hunt, who has been unable to serve the papers on him. The property has been attached, as one of
the suits filed attachment proceedings.

RUSHVILLE MEN HAVE GREAT SPORT FISHING IN THE ATLANTIC OCEAN

Miami, Fla., March 29
To The Editor:
Rushville men now sojourning in Miami report magnificent sport on a fishing trip taken yesterday in the gulf stream a few miles out in the Atlantic Ocean to the east of Miami.
In the party were Thos. W. Lytle and Roy Abercrombie, of Rushville, Cramer Sexton, of Memphis, Tenn., who was born and is well known in Rushville, and John Banker of New Brunswick, N. J. The trip was made aboard the Gloria S., Captain Fa-gen.

Fifteen to twenty fish of various kinds were caught and about three in the afternoon, Lytle and Sexton
each hooked a sail-fish, probably the gamest fish caught in the gulf stream.
At the time the fish were hooked a
large oil tank steamer was passing
and both fish made for it in an effort
to get away. Lytle's fish succeeded in getting the line tangled up in the steamer and broke loose. Sexton's
fish, however, was prevented from accomplishing the same tactics and

after forty-five minutes of strenuous work was finally hauled into the boat. It weighed 56 pounds, was a trifle over seven feet long and its spread of sail was some 32 inches.

Mr. Sexton reports that the playing and hauling of such a fish is the hardest work imaginable. It pulls on the line almost the same as a horse,
and several times this fish had out
all but a few of the 900 feet of line.
Now and then it leaped 8 to 10 feet
out of the water into the air in an endeavor to get the hook loose. When
it would try to run away it was necessary to follow swiftly with the motor boat to prevent it getting out all of the line. It is indeed strenuous
work capturing such a fish and landing one of these fish is the goal of every deep sea angler. Lytle's fish
had out 600 to 700 feet of line when
it got away. The catch of the big sail
fish by Cramer Sexton was the climax of a day of fine sport. Roy
Abercrombie on another fishing trip

CHECK-UP IN COUNTY SCHOOLS IN PROGRESS

Tests For Comparison in Rockefeller Foundation Experiment Get
Under Way Today

INSTRUCTORS ARE IN CHARGE

The tests in the county schools got
under way this morning with a corps
of teachers and instructors sent here
to check up on the school work in connection with the experiment of
the Rockefeller Foundation, in which
a difference between supervised and
ordinary teaching will be compared.

It will be recalled that last fall,
two counties in Indiana, Lagrange
and Johnson, were selected by the Rockefeller foundation, and expert supervision of these counties, and financed by this association.

At the same time, two other counties were selected for tests, where ordinary teaching forces are employed, and Rush county was selected to offset Johnson county. At that time the test was made here and now
the check-up is being completed by
the experienced instructors.

The principals of Rush county will visit the schools of Johnson county
Friday, as a part of their monthly
program for meetings.

RETURNED HERE FOR BURIAL

Mrs. Margaret Bussell Dies at Son's
Home in Mooresville

Mrs. Margaret Bussell, age 82 years, a former resident of Union township, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her son, Albert Bussell in Mooresville, and her body was brought back this afternoon. The services were held at the Ben Davis Creek church, and burial was made in the cemetery nearby.

Mrs. Bussell was the widow of the late James Bussell, and was extensively known in Union township, where the family had spent practically all of their life. John Bussell, a former resident of this city was a step-son, and several other distant relatives survive.

AUTO AND BOX CAR FIRES

Both Extinguished by Firemen Without Any Great Loss

An automobile fire and a box car
fire, were reported over the week-end
by the fire department, with no loss
resulting in either case.

Sunday night at six o'clock an automobile caught fire from a defective wiring, in a convenient place for the
firemen, stopping within a few feet
from the station, and a small chemical was used to put out the blaze.

This morning at seven o'clock a
box car was on fire in the Big Four railroad yards, and the chemical truck answered the call. Section men
had the blaze extinguished, and a small hole was burned in the floor
of the car. A spark from a train is believed to have set the sawdust on fire in the bottom of the car.

with the Easter day which will begin with a sunrise prayer-meeting. Last night the pastor spoke on "The Unavoidable Christ." He used as his text Rev. 11:15. He said in part:
I always regret to hear parents presenting the idea to their children that God is a great policeman, ready to pounce upon them the moment they do wrong. That is neither the proper idea of God or a policeman. He is their friend, helper, and protector.
Parents, if you will bring up your children to reverence God in home, in church, in all of life and to love Jesus because he is a friend, a boon companion, you will have done them an everlasting kindness.
Make the chief impression of the home that of a joyful religious fellowship, so that they will remember it as the place where God's benediction rested upon them and you have left them a far richer heritage than that of earthly possessions.
Take Jesus out of this earth and life is deprived of every worth while and worthy ambition.
Take him out of heaven and there would be such a void that none of us would want to go there.
He is the world's greatest teacher. There was authority back of His teaching. Our great poets found Him. Tennyson said of Him:
"Thou seemest human and divine, The highest, holiest manhood thou: Our wills are ours, we know not how: Our wills are ours to make them thine."
Saint Guadins, one of America's leading sculptors, illustrates our subject. He had grown up without any conscious religious conviction. He read the Gospels merely to get the spirit of Christ. After reading and meditating he said: "That man can have anything he wants of me. All that I have is his."

Our text has a world wide vision. That vision fired the heart of Paul. That group of young men who sought the haystack as a shelter from the storm got the vision, then helped to make it possible.

The heaven must work in every village, home, storm, factory, legislature, court and financial institution.

The command of Jesus includes far more than the act of baptism or confession of faith. A long process of Christian education is emphasized: "Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

Jesus is unavoidable in the places of crime and many a criminal has forsaken his evil way and turned to Him.

He is unavoidable on the train. He is our companion as we journey.

In eternity He is unavoidable. When the young French nobleman found him his question, "Where spend eternity?" was answered and his infidelity was gone.

Make His acquaintance now, so that in eternity he will be your friend and not your judge.

At St. Paul's Church

The Rev. H. W. Hargett took for the subject of his sermon Sunday morning at the St. Paul's M. E. church, "The Wondrous Cross," the text being taken from Romans 5:8, "God Commendeth His own Love Toward us in that while we were yet sinners Christ died for us." His sermon in part was as follows:

That text leads us to the wondrous cross. The cross is the supreme symbol of our faith. It stands for redemption through sacrifice. We shall never be saved by our wealth, our culture, our philosophy, our laws, our civilization, but through the sacrificial life and death of our Lord and Savior. The new testament, both in the gospels and epistles, gives a large place to the cross of Christ. On account of crude imperfect views that have offended the moral sense and have not harmonized with the God revealed through the teaching of Jesus, there has been some revolt against this cardinal doctrine of Christianity.

Today it is vindicated in a most remarkable manner by the teachings of science of sociology and of all the higher forms of civilization. Once the poet traced in the passion flower, the symbols of redemption, the cross, the crown of thorns, the spear. Today we find the very earth itself a great passion flower revealing in its rocks and its manifold forms of life the sign of the cross and the working of the great law of vicarious sacrifice.

"Life evermore is fed by death, in earth and sea and sky, And that a floyer may breathe its breath, something must die."

Think of the institutions which are our common heritage. Can you measure the cost in blood and tears that has gone into the redemption of the Christian homes today? Can you estimate the price paid for our civil and religious liberty, a price paid in the blood of our forefathers that stained the soil of Lexington Green and Bunker Hill and crimsoned the snows of Valley Forge? These are but fragments pointing the way to the mighty redeeming work of God through the sacrificial life and death of Jesus Christ. In him the meaning of the eternal purpose of God finds its expression. "He is the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." If it costs us so much to build our little world, how much more must it cost God to redeem and save a world. So long as we find the sign of the cross on the works of man and on all the works and in all the Word of God, we shall be able to sing:

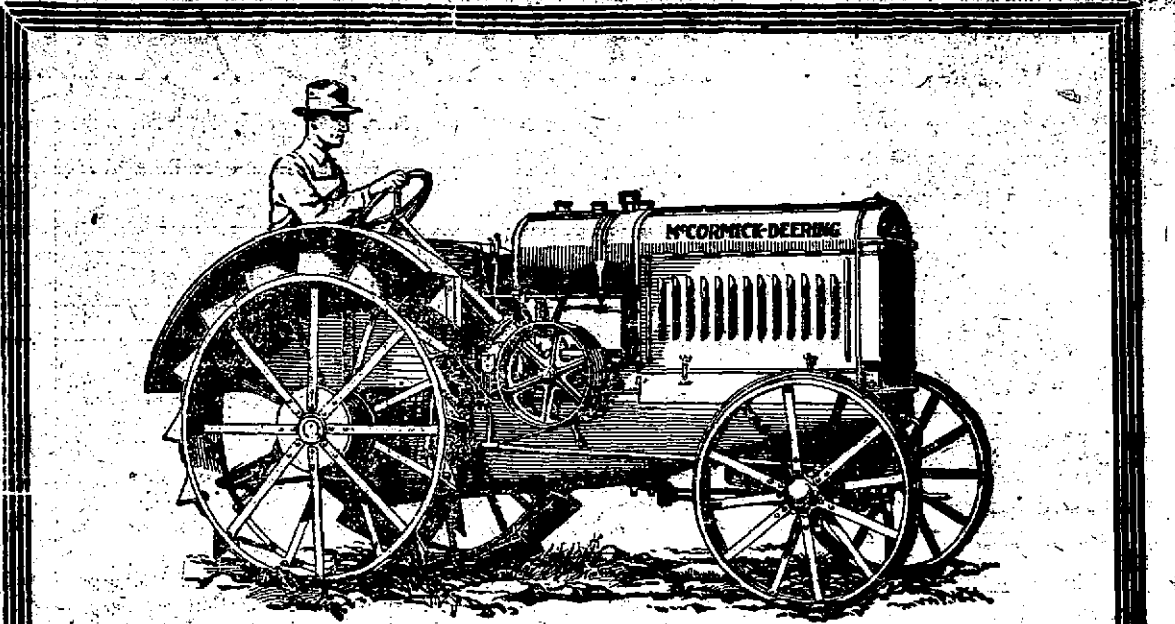

"When I survey the wondrous cross, on which the Prince of Glory died, My richest gain I count but loss, and pour contempt on all my pride."

At the close of the sermon there were five accessions to the church. The topic of the Lenten Meditation for Thursday evening will be "In the Upper Room."

New Salem Revival Opens

The evangelistic meetings at the New Salem Methodist Protestant church began Sunday with splendid interest and a good attendance was present for all the services. The pastor, the Rev. P. W. Boxwell, is assisted in this campaign for souls by Evangelist J. C. McCaslin of Anderson, Ind., a regular ordained minister of the Indiana conference of the Methodist Protestant church, who rendered three special selections of gospel music and delivered three evangelistic messages Sunday.

"A Clear Vision of Jesus Christ" was the subject of the morning sermon, in which the evangelist used the following scriptures as a text, "Sirs! We would see Jesus." "They saw no man save Jesus only." "I Determined to know nothing among you save

The Alterer of Habits

FRANK STOCKTON wrote a tale about a monarch who relied on an official called the "Discourager of Hesitancy." This officer's task was to prod folks who dallied over important decisions.

Modern advertising likewise fosters prompt and judicious decisions. But advertising might better be called the "Alterer of Habits." It brings many changes to pass. And these changes are for the better—always.

Advertising has revolutionized the personal habits as well as the buying habits of the nation. It has elevated our standards of living. It has made us eat better, sleep better and dress better. It has added countless comforts and conveniences to the daily life of each one of us.

Advertising has taught us how to find the best buys in almost everything imaginable without indulging in the needless habit of "shopping around." It tells us just where and when to go for what we want and how much to pay. It lets us compare prices and qualities without even stirring from our homes. It vouchsafes our money's worth.

Do you read the advertisements that appear daily in this paper?

It's a profitable habit

Jesus Christ and His crucifixion." The slogan of the evangelistic campaign is "The Lord alone shall be exalted."

Sunday afternoon Evangelist McCaslin spoke on "General Principles of a genuine Bible, Holy Ghost Revival." He declared that the storm center of this revival meeting is the secret place of prayer. "Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit saith the Lord of Hosts."

"Seven Wonders of the Love of God," was the subject of the evening message based upon John 3:16. The following wonders were emphasized: 1—The wonderful source; the Holy, personal, eternal God. 2—The wonderful object. Unholy man in an ungodly world; 3—Wonderful gift of His love; His only begotten Son; 4—The wonderful purpose; salvation by the grace of God through faith in Jesus Christ. 5—Wonderful dimensions; whosoever believeth. 6—Wonderful power; to perform living miracles of redeeming grace. 7—Wonderful victory and glory of that love in time and eternity. At the close of the message a large number came to the altar of the church for consecration and prayer.

The program for the week will be as follows: Bible studies on prayer at 2 p. m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening. Subjects: Monday, "The Power of the Holy Ghost"; Tuesday, "The Power of the Holy Bible"; Wednesday, "The Power of the Blood of Jesus Christ"; Thursday, "The Power of Jesus and the Resurrection"; Friday, "The Power of the Victorious Life in Christ Jesus"; Saturday, "The Power of That Blessed Hope." Sunday morning, "Seven Personal Bible Questions"; Sunday afternoon meeting for women and girls at the M. P. parsonage, meeting for men and boys at the M. P. church; subject, "The New Suit of Clothes needed by each man and boy in the New Salem Community, guaranteed to fit, enrich, satisfy and wear a life time." Sunday evening subject, "Seeing Ourselves as God Sees Us."

Sensation

One of the latest sensations of the Senate committee investigation was the testimony of J. E. Dyche, here shown on the stand, who was former warden of the Atlanta federal prison. He testified that Heber Votaw, brother-in-law of the late President Harding and superintendent of prisons, had halted narcotic investigations.

MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1924

The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage—Psalm 16:5, 6.

Finding Ourselves

There are few communities, and Rushville is no exception, that do not need a little appreciation at home, in order to get ahead.

Every community has its good points, but in most instances, few people appreciate them.

Rushville is so attractive, such a really fine place and has such fine people, that most of its inhabitants are well satisfied and say "let well enough alone" or "let someone else do it."

Letting someone else, when it comes to matters of public welfare, will not work out in actual practice. There are two reasons; there is no somebody else if everybody puts it up to someone else.

Besides, if we let someone else do it, we lose half of the benefit, because in the doing of something for the common good, for the welfare of the community as a whole, there is a very direct and positive benefit which redounds to the doer because of the act of doing develops a better man and a broader and fuller citizen.

No man may live for himself alone. He is the shortest-sighted man in the world who thinks he can.

He is little less than no man at all who attempts to attend strictly to his own business and takes no interest in community welfare.

Every man can do something for the advancement of the community.

Every man owes it to the community to do something more than merely pay his taxes, for the taxes are spent for the community good and, therefore, the taxpayer gets his money's worth in return for a fair assessment.

Communities, like individuals, are too apt to become self-satisfied if they are reasonably well to do. Ease and contentment always follow success. A jolt sometimes brings them to life.

If Rushville were put under the stress of some great calamity, it would surprise even itself by the energy and activity with which it would meet and solve the problem.

But as matters stand, it looks like nothing short of a severe shock would wake us up. We as a community are not asleep, but dozing drowsily and very apt to drop into peaceful slumber.

Rushville needs to find itself. It needs to get over and above the affliction of self-satisfaction—just as individuals need to overcome it—and to find out its shortcomings.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, D.C.—The spirit of Boies Penrose, former boss of the C. O. P., does not rest well under the aspersions cast against himself (and his beloved party) by witnesses before the Senate investigating committee.

Such, at least, is the interpretation placed on ghostly manifestations in Penrose's old apartment at the Wardman Park Hotel.

Penrose's former suite is now occupied by Mary Roberts Rinehart, novelist and author of mystery plays, but Mary never put into her fiction more thrilling situations than she experiences now at home. "Uncanny incidents" have happened from time to time in the apartment ever since Mrs. Rinehart moved in. But since witnesses in the Senate inquiry have charged that the Republican nomination in 1920 was an outright case of buy and sell, and since Al Jennings swore Jake Hamon told him Penrose got $250,000 in the transaction, the place has become more than ever spooky in its weird happenings.

Rappings,appings and strange noises like restless footsteps abound. Penrose's old easy chair takes fits of rocking violently to and fro. Tables tip eerily.

Even Mrs. Rinehart, who is of an investigator's turn of mind and not readily rattled, having been investigating "spirits" and such for years, is getting to feel creepy. And politicians in Washington just from hearing about it are getting jumpy.

CLIPPING OUT REFUND CHECKS AT 4,500 A DAY

More Than Half of Automobile License Refund Checks Have Been Filled Out and Mailed

Indianapolis, April 5—If you haven't received your auto license refund check, don't give up hope. You will get it soon. Such is the encouraging word forthcoming today from the state auto license department.

A battery of six girl typists in the department are clipping out refund checks at the rate of 4,500 a day. More than half the checks have been filled out and mailed. If you have not gotten yours, it's because you belong to the unlucky latter half.

The system of refunding the checks is rather complicated, and every precaution is being taken to see that every motorist gets his refund, and that at the same time no one is overpaid.

Girl stenographers make out the checks and then two men on the staff of the auto license department go over the checks and see that they are correct.

Then the amount of each check is audited by two field examiners of the state board of accounts, Ed Brennan and Webb Gilbert.

The motorists get back $1,000,000 and pay $6,000 for it. Postage, for example, will cost $3,000 alone; envelopes $500, checks $500 and other items accordingly.

J. Riley Small, formerly of Rushville, now occupying an enviable position in musical circles in Indianapolis, and Indiana as well, will give a Lenten organ recital at Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Indianapolis, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, commemorating Passion Day.

There seems to be no doubt about the matter now, that the city of Rushville is soon to have a day current of electricity, that will fill a long felt want among the business men as well as the inhabitants of the residence district.

Elmer, the eleven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Rees, living east of here, fell against a tree while playing tag at school and cut a gash in his forehead. Dr. Paxton of Greenwood was called and four stitches were taken to close the wound which was very deep.

The Rushville Glove Factory will close down tonight for a month, while new machinery is being installed and other extensive improvements made. The industry is proving to be a better proposition than the promoters anticipated.

William Frazee Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William Frazee of West Third street, underwent an operation for enlarged tonsils at the Sexton sanitarium this morning. Dr. Barnhart of Indianapolis performed the operation.

Mrs. Bert Talbot and daughter, Hypatia and Lucille of Indianapolis are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Marshall, west of this city.

CO-OPERATIVE PLAN SUGGESTED FOR NATIONAL TOAST CAMPAIGN

The National Toast Campaign is a movement in the interests of the nation's health and prosperity.

It is merchandising co-operation on a vast scale.

Those interests which can profit by a better balance of production, fabrication, and consumption of those standard foods which form the basis of our American diet are working together in a unified effort to make this co-operation a success.

The basis of the whole campaign is increased consumption of wheat foods.

The American wheat farmer finds his formerly profitable foreign market for wheat rapidly disappearing. Depreciation in the buying power of the wheat farmer has produced a national economic situation which requires immediate remedial measures.

While the farmer is reducing his wheat acreage and increasing his yield through diversification and better farming methods, an immediate opportunity is offered to the standard food industries of the United States, with their allied trades, to expand the domestic market for the farmers' principal cash crop, with incidental profit to themselves.

The people of the United States, since the war, have not returned to that proportion of wheat consumption which means the most wholesome and economical diet.

Before the war, we used 5.06 bushels of wheat per capita per year. Since the war we have averaged but 4.22 bushels of this basic food. The Eat More Wheat campaign is already a great national movement, sound from every point of view. The National Toast Campaign is a part of this movement.

As a nation we are governed in eating by the appetite appeal. We eat that extra slice of bread when toasted, because we like it better than something else on the table. Toast dishes, toast with other foods, make our meals more appetizing. Every toasting appliance, electric or gas, used in the home means one or more loaves per week for that family. That has been proven. Only 12 out of every 100 homes supplied with electric current have toasters in them. That leaves over nine million wired homes in the United States without electric toasters.

There are many more millions of homes supplied with gas where no toasting appliances are used.

Here is an enormous undeveloped field for the introduction of toast. The desire for a new toaster is already established in most homes. Only a stimulated interest in toast and an opportunity to make it properly, to taste its goodness, are needed to confirm its continued use.

The wheaty taste is one of which mankind has never tired. It truly represents the staff of life. Toasted, the accentuated flavors harmonize with other foods, lending zest, the appetite appeal to every meal. It is a better, more digestible, more tasty, nutritious food.

Many thousands of toasters already sold by reason of the advertising of a few concerns are evidence of results to be expected. Reports of increased sales from bakeries where toast campaigns are running have confirmed the campaign's value.

The universal interest and the successful experience of the Toast Campaign as presented by the American Institute of Baking in August, 1923, made it necessary to broaden the scope of the campaign. Those food industries with their allied trades, who were vitally interested in the increased use of wheat foods toasted, must be enabled to take advantage of the movement by coordinating their efforts with those of the electrical and baking industries.

The Wheat Council of the United States, in conference with the key men representing 29 food industries and allied trades, developed in Chicago a co-operative plan of campaign enthusiastically supported by all groups, which is applicable at once to conditions in every city in the United States. Many features in this plan have already become national in effect.

Building on a fundamental ideal in American Business, great food industries for the first time are co-ordinating their forces around a common carrier, each helping the other to find a better market and develop new business, all in the interests of better national health and prosperity.

THE PLAN

A. Publicity.
B. Individual Coordinated Effort: Electrical, Gas, Hardware Dealer, Millers and Flour Clubs, Retail Bakers, Wholesale Bakers, Retail Grocers, Wholesale Grocers, Butter and Milk, Cheese, Yeast, Hotels and Restaurants, Meat Packers and Butchers, Women's Clubs and Activities, General Advertising, Civic Endeavorment, Department Stores.
C. Organized Cooperation.

Your Part

The Wheat Council of the United States presents you this opportunity to take part in the biggest organized cooperative movement ever undertaken by American Food industries.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR ATHLETICS

Connie Mack, Manager of Philadelphia Club, Spent Busy Winter Adding New Players

THREE FROM THE MINORS

Two Outfielders And An Infielder Secured From Baltimore Club—Other Players Primed

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 7—While other managers were talking about last winter what they wanted to do, or what they were going to do, Connie Mack went out and did it.

By the generous use of cash, Mack strengthened the Philadelphia Athletics with three of the most highly touted minor league players in the country.

He secured two outfielders, Simmons and Strand and Max Bishop, a second baseman who made a great reputation at Baltimore. With these three stars added to material left from last year, which was far from the worst, Mack boasts that his team is back in the race.

"We'll finish second this year and next year we'll displace the New York Yankees as champions," Mack said recently.

Chick Galloway, the short stop, is one of the best players in the game and with a man at left who can work with more finish on double plays and who will not force him to cover short center, Galloway should be a vastly improved player.

Bishop, Mack has said already, is the player who can give Galloway that help.

Sammy Hale at third base isn't the best third baseman in the league, neither is he the worst. His work suffered last year by the desire to live up to the flattering things that had been said about his minor league playing. He should be an improved player because Galloway can pay more attention to the border line of his territory.

Hauser at first base completes what should be a good infield. He is a reliable fielder and a 300 hitter. Simmons and Strand, with the veterans Miller and Walkemlin the outfield, supply a hard hitting, able charged up last year with the punch that was given them by Spark Plug Matthews but when Matthews dubbed out in mid-season the whole team dubbed along with him. Simmons and Strand may be able to start the same inspiration and make it more permanent.

Ralph Perkins is one of the best catchers in the league and Bruggy is relief man.

Eddie Rommel, who may be expected to have a better season than he had last year, heads the pitching staff, which consists of Hasty, Heimach, Naylor, Harris, Walberg and Ogden. Mack figures that he will have better results all down the line and he may have. He will have to get more games out of his staff if he hopes to be the runner up club this season.

The Athletics haven't the punch of the Cleveland Indians and they lack the pitching strength of the Yankees and the Indians. It is not easy to find a reason why they should beat out the Indians or win the pennant. They have a splendid chance, however, to finish in the first division.

PHILLIPS MAY GET TO TRYOUT FOR OLYMPICS

Rushville Boy in Butler Being Backed For Opportunity to Get on Olympic Team

CAN JUMP AS WELL AS RUN

A report in the Indianapolis News Saturday evening says that Herman Phillips, Rushville boy who defeated Joie Ray at Louisville a week ago Saturday night, may get a shot at the Olympic tryouts this summer. The article accompanied an "action" picture of Phillips and is as follows:

Spot this fellow while he's just starting—he's hard to see once he gets under way. His name is Herman Phillips—ever hear of him? Joie Ray has.

Phillips is the Butler College freshman from Rushville, whose daily capers on Irwin field, not to mention his victory over Ray at the Louisville A. A. U. meet last week, are outstanding features of the early track season.

Phillips runs everything from the 220-yard dash to the mile, and out-steps the Bulldog veterans in every event. In the Butler interclass meet Friday track men were not allowed to compete in their regular events, so Phillips took up broad jumping and won the event with a leap better than twenty feet.

Being a freshman, Phillips will get no collegiate competition this year, but his showing already has been such as to justify some very elaborate predictions for next year and even cause his backers to hope that he may be given a shot at the Olympic tryouts this summer.

JEOPARDIZE OWN AND THE SCHOOL STANDING

High School Athletes Playing on Teams Other Than Their Own May be Held Ineligible

RULING BY THE STATE BOARD

High school basketball players, who participate in games after the state final tourney, on any teams other than their own school, jeopardize their own standing for spring athletics this year and for basketball next year, and also jeopardize the standing of their high school in the state association, according to an announcement made by A. L. Trester, state secretary, in a communication to E. B. Butler, local high school principal.

This decision was re-affirmed at the board meeting of the state association held in Indianapolis March 29. Several players who expect to take part in track and baseball games and who have played on other teams since the basketball season ended, will be ineligible to finish the spring athletic season, according to the ruling.

Mr. Trester, in sending out the announcement, asks the principals to warn all high school students of the danger of being thrown out of future athletics, by playing with a team other than their own high school. Such playing usually lacks the proper supervision and regulation, and frequently the games may be played with persons designated as being in the professional class.

GUN CLUB WILL ORGANIZE

Meeting Will Be Held in Court House Tuesday Evening

The Rushville Gun Club will perfect an organization in this city Tuesday night, when the twenty members who have signified their intentions of belonging to it, will meet in the court house to elect officers and proceed to the organization program.

The meeting is scheduled for eight o'clock, and will be held in the commissioner's room. All of those who have signed up for the new association, as well as those who are interested in the matter, are urged to attend the first meeting, and assist in electing the officers.

McAdoo; (front row, left to right) Germaine Leewitz, New York; Suzanne Leewitz, captain; Mary Pollache, Cambridge, Mass.

Tells Why Lynch Crashed

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, April 7—Two big shots are all that the summer boxing program can hold. The outdoor season last summer was overcrowded with feature events and promoters and the public suffered.

These are the opinions of Tex Rickard, America's premier boxing promoter, who admits that he is facing his biggest job in giving the sport public this summer the best in the smallest quantity.

"It was my intention originally to try two big spectacles with Jack Dempsey in one corner, but I find now that this will be impossible. I can use Dempsey only once, and his single appearance must be in the windup show of the season," Rickard said.

Rickard insists that the plans he had in mind for Dempsey were set aside by the insistence of Jack Kearns, the champion's manager, that his charge was not in physical condition to take any kind of a chance until September.

In announcing that he had been forced to abandon plans for a Dempsey-Gibbons contest early in June, Rickard told the United Press that he was willing to stage the contest, that he had reached an agreement on terms with Gibbons, but that Kearns said his champion wasn't in condition to go.

Kearns claims that he was all set to go, that he had placed a return match with Gibbons first on his list of prospects, but that Rickard had told him that it would be impossible to stage a big championship match until the Democrats had picked their man to make the big race this fall.

"I told Rickard," Kearns said, "that we could not remain idle until June, because it would take at least 45 days to steam up the fight and that would run us into the late summer. We couldn't sign for a July or an August date and keep it quiet until the first of July."

"We had many offers for other fights. Jim Coffroth wanted to put us on in Tijuana early in the summer. We had offers for a fight with Gibbons from several other promoters and we had a couple of movie contracts that we had to consider because the price was so good. So I told Rickard if he couldn't do business for an early June date we would have to look elsewhere."

The W. W. T. class of the First Baptist church will hold a pitch-in supper at the church on Wednesday night of this week, and all members of the class are asked to be at the church by 6:30 o'clock. If the weather permits, the class will take a hike after the supper hour.

Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan had, as their week-end guest the Rev. L. C. Howe of Vincennes, Ind., who filled the pulpit at the Main Street Christian church Sunday in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. L. E. Brown. The Rev. Howe is a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Jordan.

Miss Dale Gephart and Miss Rowena Kennedy, students of DePauw University, spent the week-end in this city—the house guests of the latter's parents, Dr. and Mrs. R. O. Kennedy. They left Sunday for Cincinnati, Ohio to attend a national convention of Music Supervisors which is in session all week. Miss Gephart will play first cornet in the Supervisor's orchestra and Miss Kennedy will sing in a Supervisor's chorus.

Members of the choir and their families of the Glenwood Methodist church enjoyed a pitch-in dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Young near Glenwood.

Wool embroidery in shades of golden brown trims this straight-line frock of brown pique tulle. A unique short cape goes with the frock and is lined with a lighter shade of brown. The upstanding collar is unique.

There were thirty-five in attendance for the social function. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Wamsley and daughter Katherine of this city.

BUTLER CLAIMS 620 DELEGATES

Manager of President Coolidge's Campaign Foresees Big Victory by April 22

CLAIMS TOTAL NOW 385

In Claiming 620 Delegates by April 22, Manager Says He is Making Liberal Allowances

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(U. S. Star Correspondent)

Washington, April 7.—By April 22, President Coolidge will have 620 delegates to the Republican national convention, Wm. M. Butler, his campaign manager said here today.

Butler claimed a total of 385 delegates for Coolidge now, including those from Maine, eight from Missouri, the Connecticut unimpaired delegation and three from Ohio.

Butler's claim of 620 by April 22 "makes liberal allowance for any contingency," he said.

Butler has just come here from Chicago for a series of conferences in which will be settled the temporary and permanent chairmanships of the Cleveland convention and the chairmanship of the Republican national committee. It has been definitely decided that John T. Adams, the president Chairman will not continue in that position after the convention. The chairman to be chosen in June will be the active manager of the Coolidge campaign from then on, assuming that Coolidge is nominated, as all indications are that he will be.

Butler said his survey of conditions in the middle west and west convinced him that Nebraska and California that are the only states where Coolidge faces a real pre-convention fight. He said Coolidge will carry Nebraska, but made no predictions concerning Hiram Johnson's home state.

The current investigation by the senate will be forgotten by the public in the main before the campaign is very old, Butler predicted.

"I think it unlikely that they will have much effect on the campaign," he said. "It will proceed in my opinion, along normal lines."

Butler added that he had "heard it said" that the investigations were hurting business but he would not make that statement himself, he said.

He had no comment at the moment, Butler said, on the suggestion that Senator Borah be named temporary chairman and keynoter of the convention. His own senatorial candidacy will not interfere to any great degree, Butler stated with his close attention to the Coolidge campaign. However, he made it plain that this statement applied only to the pre-convention campaign and was not to be taken as an intimation that he would head the national committee. The matter, he said, has not been settled.

Stomach and Bowel Trouble vs. Asthma

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 60
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

QUESTION:—I noticed your ad last week on Asthma. Is your health method equally as good in stomach and bowel disorders?

ANSWER:—Just as relieving pressure at the spine from the nerves that supply the bronchial tubes, and allowing a free flow of life force will restore a normal condition where so-called asthma has been present, so will relieving a pressure from the nerves supplying the stomach and bowels restore a normal function.

The same Life Force that emanates from the brain over the nerves and keeps the bronchii functioning normally (if the nerves are free from pressure at the spine) keeps the stomach, bowels, and every other part of the body in a normal condition.

In bronchial trouble the pressure is at a certain point in the spine, in stomach disorders another point, in kidney disorder still another point, etc.

the state at all—to the governor as a private individual."

Barnard argued that Brown in his testimony had admitted taking notes of Governor McCray for the money. He continued that McCray had a perfect right to do what he pleased with the loan.

McCray was charged by the statute with safe-keeping of the funds of the board of agriculture, Barnard contended. The statute says only those officials charged with the care of the money can be guilty of embezzlement, Barnard said. "The governor does not come within that class in respect to the funds."

At the conclusion of Barnard's argument, Eph Inman, assistant prosecutor, argued for the state.

Yes, our Health Method is equally as good in any functional disorder as in So-called Asthma.

In proof we submit the following testimonial:—

ANOTHER RUSHVILLE MAN THANKFUL

For ten years I was a constant sufferer with stomach, bowel and liver trouble, and nervousness. I tried everything in the line of drugs and was even advised to have my teeth pulled, which I did, all without results.

Food seemed to do me no good as I kept losing weight and strength. My color was bad and my nerves were so on edge that I could not sleep at night. At times I thought I was losing my mind. I had a severe pain constantly between my shoulders and a feeling of pressure in the back of my neck. My eyes ached and were sore to pressure. My stomach and bowels were sore all the time. I had to use a purgative every night.

After finding that drugs would not reach my trouble, I started taking Chiropractic Adjustments from Drs. McCully & McCully. They do not give drugs in any form, but use just straight Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments. They relieved me of all my trouble and my health is now good. I have gained fifteen pounds in weight, my color is good, I have no pain, and my nervousness has completely disappeared, and I sleep fine.

I am only too glad to recommend Drs. McCully & McCully and Chiropractic to any one and feel sure that if they accept a case they will get results as they have for me.

NO INTENTIONS TO QUIT PLACE

William J. Burns, Chief of Investigation Department, Denies Any Reports to That Effect

INTERVIEWED BY WRITER

Says He Sees No Reason Why Every Man Appointed by Daugherty, Should Quit Their Posts

By JULIAN STREET
(Written for United Press)
(Copyright 1924 by United Press)
Washington, April 7—William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice told me he does not intend to resign. "There's nothing to it" he said in responses to an inquiry on the subject. "I've never thought of resigning."

WELL-MERITED SUCCESS

A distinguished citizen, honored politically and professionally, Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose picture appears above, made a success few have equalled. His pure herbal remedies which have stood the test for fifty years are still among the "best sellers." Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a blood medicine and stomach alternative. It clears the skin, beautifies it, increases the blood supply and the circulation, and pimples and eruptions vanish quickly. Beauty is but skin deep and good blood is beneath both. For your blood to be good, your stomach must be in condition, your liver active. This Discovery of Doctor Pierce's puts you in fine condition, with all the organs active. Ask your nearest druggist for Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in tablet or liquid form, or send 10 cents for trial package of tablets to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

MOM'N POP

Are they going to oust every man Daugherty appointed?"

Sitting at his desk in a large private office in the department of justice building he might have been the general manager of a corporation. His luncheon, consisting of a box of sandwiches and a pickle, had just been brought to him when I entered and he apologized for eating as we talked.

I asked Burns if there was truth in reports of his having caused cabinet members, senators, representatives, and citizens engaged in the department of justice investigations to be shadowed or otherwise investigated.

This he flatly denied.

"Was a department of justice investigator concerned in the Cleveland hotel episode related by Miss Roxie Simson?" I inquired.

"Absolutely not," said Burns.

"It is commonly reported," I said, "that department of justice files or photostats of such files have gotten into the hands of the Burns Detective Agency. Is there any truth in that?"

"Such a thing is absolutely impossible," Burns answered.

"Is your opinion of Gaston B. Means still as high as it used to be?" I inquired, remembering that Burns had spoken in the highest terms of Means.

He answered the question but added "I do not want to be quoted as discussing Means because of the peculiar situation that exists."

Asked if he knew Howard Mannington, who is on his way back from France to testify before the senatorial committee investigating Daugherty, Burns replied:

"Mannington was in Ohio politics. I knew him well in Columbus when I lived there."

"What kind of man is he?"

"A fine, clean fellow," Burns answered, "a splendid fellow."

"Were you ever at Mannington's large green house on K street?"

"Never."

"Is it not true," I asked, "that the methods of this bureau have been rougher since the war?"

"It is not," Burns replied. "When I came here I found the bureau badly

demoralized. Everyone was working at cross purposes but I now have a high degree of efficiency and a splendid lot of men. I have fired the loafers, drunkards and rough-necks, cut out of the mystery stuff and the flashing of badges, and instructed the men to be civil to the public at all times.

"All my life my object has been to prevent crime, to educate criminals to an understanding of the enormous forces arrayed against them."

"What we want to do," said Burns as I was leaving his office, "is to make the crooks understand that no crook can be permanently successful."

It's Not Spring Fever— Just a Winter Hangover

Chicago, April 5—If you have that dreamy, lassitude feeling—you know when you want to go fishing and forget your work, it's just a winter hang over and not spring fever.

Dr. P. A. Lenhardt, physical director of the U. S. M. C. A. here, says it is wasted energy to mope around and yearn for God's great outdoors. All you need, he said is:

Less food, less clothing, take a walk or visit the neighbors before going to bed, forget business when you call it a day, don't grouch and play outside as much as you can.

HELP FOR OLD FOLKS
Old Age Should be Happy—Not a Time of Sickness and Suffering

Too many people begin to suffer at middle age with constant headache, urinary ills and rheumatic pains and aches. Weak kidneys are usually the cause and, if neglected, there is danger of hardened arteries, dropsy, gravel or Bright's disease. Help your weakened kidneys with a stimulant diuretic before kidney disease gets a firm hold! Use Doan's Pills! Thousands of old folks recommend Doan's.

Here is Rushville proof:

M. E. Warfue, 901 N. Sexton St., says: "I can say a good word for Doan's Pills, for I have used them when my back troubled me and my kidneys were disordered. After using one box, I was relieved of the trouble. Another member of the family has also used Doan's with good results."

EXERCISE CARE TO PROTECT MEANING

Interpreters Complete Task of Translating Results of Committee's Labors Into French

TO MAKE REPORTS PUBLIC

Cautions French That "Three Distinguished Americans Are Largely Responsible For Plans."

By WEBB MILLER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

Paris, April 7.—Care to preserve the most minute shades of meaning in the draft of the experts reports was taken today as interpreters completed the task of translating the results of the committee's labors from English into French.

As soon as the two texts are identical, Louis Barthou, France's representative on the reparations commission, will summon his colleagues to receive the reports. This is expected to occur Saturday night or Sunday.

The reports are awaited with interest. They will be made public as

Joint-Ease
For Swollen Joints

Most remedies fail but Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's for joint troubles only, whether in ankle, knee, hip, elbow, shoulder, finger or spine—whether rheumatic or not.

It limbers up stiff, inflamed, painful, creaky joints so quickly you'll be astonished.

Two seconds' rubbing and away it goes through skin and flesh right down to the bone and ligaments—that's why it succeeds. Ask all druggists or any reliable druggist.

soon as submitted to the commission. General Dawes, American chairman of the committee number one, major report; and Reginald McKenna, will read a covering letter with the chairman of committee No. 2, will likewise cover his report on German capital abroad.

Louis Barthou, who will reply for the commission, said copies will be given to each member and to the various governments, who will be afforded opportunity to study the findings. A meeting, to which the Germans will be invited, then will be called.

Barthou informally cautioned the French press to remember that "three distinguished Americans are largely responsible for the plans" and the French newspapers should therefore use all possible delicacy in commenting thereon.

What our Modern Laundry Service Offers You

Mrs. Smith relies on us for all of her washing and ironing. She likes our Finished Family Service best.

Mrs. Brown prefers to iron her own frilly things, but she has us do all her washing, and iron her bed and table linen, towels, and other flat pieces.

Mrs. Adams sends us her heavy wash-rugs, blankets and comforts regularly, and Mrs. Martin wouldn't think of letting anyone else touch her curtains and pillows.

These are some of the many household helps which we offer you.

Select the one which best suits your needs—no matter how critical you may be, we promise to please you.

We will wash for you with the purest of rainsoft water and the mildest of white soaps. We will do your ironing with improved equipment which never scorches, wears or tears.

In everything we do for you we use care and skill, and we give you the benefit of modern methods which science and experience have taught us.

Try this improved service—it costs you little, and it saves you so much.

Just bundle up everything that needs washing and put in a call for our driver today—we'll have him there promptly.
